

Domaine Truchetet – a Premeaux-Prissey surprise

Premeaux is one of my favourite areas, although it is officially part of the larger Nuits-Saint-Georges landscape. I do understand the marketing sense of using the Nuits-Saint-Georges brand, but on the other hand, I find some unique qualities in the Premeaux area, so I always seek out Premeaux wines and estates.

A new estate (to me at least) is Domaine Truchetet, where the son Morgan Truchetet has just taken over, together with his wife Pauline and his sister Julie. They are now brushing the dust off the barrels and setting off in a new direction.
